FIRST DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The republican electors of the first congressional district, are hereby notified that a convention will be held at Okauchee Junction, Tuesday, May 1st, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing two delegates to the national republican convention to be held at Chicago, June 10th.

Also to name one presidential elector and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. Block county will be entitled to 13 electors. Walworth 9, Racine 3, Jefferson 2, and Kewaunee 2.

W. H. HUBBARD, Chairman.
Geo. A. LYLE, Secretary of Committee.

A democratic paper, the Philadelphia Times, acknowledges that Mr. Blaine has a good many more ups than downs.

Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll has selected the evening of May 9 to deliver his eulogy of the late Kosciusko Conkling in the legislative chamber at Albany.

The idea is spreading that Mr. Cleveland will stick to the position stated in his letter of acceptance that a president should not be eligible for a second term and decline to run. There is a remote possibility that Grover will yet prove himself consistent on one point.

The Gazette wouldn't for anything, say a word that would harrow up the feelings of the Democrats or the mugwumps, but for the sake of giving the news, it will say that Mr. Blaine is in good health, and that he will make a lively racket when he comes home in June.

Governor Gray, endorsed by the Indiana democracy for vice-president, and Metcalf and Myers, candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor are all renegade republicans. Gray left the party because of his opposition to the reconstruction measures adopted in the South after the war. Gray will make a good candidate for the republicans to beat.

Preacher E. L. Eaton, a Wisconsin prohibition leader, predicts the election of Grover Cleveland. He has already predicted that a man would be elected, the election of the candidate for whose election he works.—Sunday Telegraph.

That is even so. The third-party leaders seem by their conduct to say that they rather see in the presidential chair the man who said, "whiskey is good enough for me," than to see a temperance republican and a christian gentleman fill the chief office of the nation.

To-morrow will be a busy day in the senate. Ingalls is to answer Voorhees. The galleries will be full. The democrats will look as if they were going to a funeral. One feature of the programme will be that Ingalls, in addition to reading Senator Voorhees' record will also produce a copy of the commission issued by Jeff Davis to Senator Blackburn, giving him authority to act as guerrilla and murderer.

The kind of a man a Greenback may be learned from the following note from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "In his entire military career General Greenback never violated the rules of strict discipline but once, and that was when he heard a battle raging ten miles away and marched quickly, without orders, to take part in it. General Grant indorsed his action, however, and if he should be nominated for president he will not lose any votes on account of such a stroke of courage and energy."

It is said by the Minneapolis Tribune that "a shadow or other of the Greenback boom sweeps the states' conventions." So much the better for the boom. State convention booms do not nominate a candidate. The meet they do to counteract each other.—Chicago Journal.

That is so, that conventions do not nominate, and if they did, they would have been a republican president-to-day. Thirty-eight republican state conventions in 1888 endorsed the splendid administration of President Arthur, and some democratic conventions were honorable enough to do the same thing. There never was an administration of any president since the days of Lincoln, that gave the country so much satisfaction as that of Arthur's; and yet the fact remains that he was not nominated.

The following good words for Secretary of State Timme are spoken by the Eau Claire Free Press: Milwaukee politicians are agitating the complexion of the next republican state ticket to the extent of endeavoring to furnish a candidate of German birth for the office of secretary of state. The theory is, that the other incumbents of the state office who, with the exception of Governor Rosk, are in their first term, will be re-elected re-nominations, and that Secretary Timme, who is now serving a third term, may be easily displaced by a Milwaukee man. In the latter conjecture the Milwaukee spiritless are in fault. Capt. Timme has a strong hold upon all classes and nationalities in the state, and it is doubtful if it would be wise to leave him off the ticket. His name would add to its strength and therefore should be omitted only for extraordinary reasons.

The Sentinel mentioned the other day that the democratic organs were showing that they do not like the prospect of Mr. Hoar's nomination for governor, obviously believing that it would put an end to any hope they may have of making asia for the democratic party next fall in this state. The Madison Democrat tries to dispute the statement, but in so doing discloses its truth by its own language. For just what reason they should object to him more than any other republican candidate, it says, "is not quite apparent, for he is no more of a farmer than General Girty or Hod Taylor—all three are newspaper men—and not so much as McFetridge, for he is some of a farmer." Further to vote simply to elect a man who knows that a Jersey cow is not a Cheshire horse, then the farmer can spend his time to much better advantage at home than going to the polls to vote.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

It will be very difficult for the republicans to nominate a man for governor that will please the Madison Democrat or the democratic party. Some how or other not one of the candidates named by the Democrat is acceptable to its party. McFetridge is one of the best men in the state. He is not only that, but he is a strong man in an executive sense, and the democrats ought to rejoice that the republicans talk of nominating him for governor. Hod Taylor is another good man and a strong candidate. He is a polished gentleman, has a splendid record, and would make as every democrat knows, a governor for whom everybody would have, or ought to have, the highest respect. Then there is Hoar, who is just as clean a man as the democrats can find in the state, and yet the democrats are kicking against him. He is not only a clean man, and knows the difference between butter and oleomargarine, but he is a man of broad common sense, or that may be better to say, of uncommon sense, for broad common sense is uncommon, and not one sober democrat can be found to dispute the fact that he would make a royal good governor, and still the democrats would prefer that the republicans drop him.

So it seems that the republicans will have to go about their business of making a gubernatorial nomination regardless of what the democrats think about it. The republicans will promise the democrats this, however, that they will nominate and elect a man who will make a governor of whom the democrats, as well as republicans may justly feel proud.

MONUMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

A Fitting Memorial to the First Century.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—In response to a call issued some time ago by Governor Bannock, the Governors of the thirteen States of the Union, and the Senators of the United States, met in Carpenter's Hall here Saturday to consider plans for the establishment of a fitting and lasting memorial to commemorate the first century of the Constitution of the United States. Resolutions were passed calling upon the National Government and the various States and Territories to make appropriations for the erection of a monument to the Constitution. The monument to be erected in the city of Philadelphia, said monument to bear the name of the great Declaration of Independence in their own words, and of the framers of the constitution. It was also resolved to invite all the States and Territories to co-operate with New York in the erection of a monument to the Constitution. The present was given by Governor Bannock, of Pennsylvania; Sawyer, of New Hampshire; Davis, of Rhode Island; Biggs, of Delaware; Green, of New Jersey; Jackson, of Maryland; Lieutenant-Governor Jones, of New York; and Howard, of Connecticut; Rev. Thomas A. Hoyt, D. D., of Georgia; Major Charles S. Stedman, of Virginia; Julius N. Carr, of North Carolina, and ex-Secretary of State J. N. Lipscomb, of South Carolina.

A SINGER'S TRAGIC END.

A London Prima Donna Loses an Eye Through Ill-Temper and Killa Herself.

LONDON, April 30.—Helen Croft, a prima donna, committed suicide in a cab in Piccadilly a night or two ago. She had signed a contract with Mr. Harris, of the Grand Opera Company, but owing to a misunderstanding she tore up the contract in a fit of temper. Later she tried to reopen negotiations, but Mr. Harris had in the meantime engaged a substitute. The affair brought on a nervous illness, and she nearly died from the effects of an overdose of narcotics which she had taken to relieve her suffering. She bought the revolver with which she shot herself three days before committing the deed. Mrs. Croft was the daughter of Mrs. Rachel. She was much respected in the profession, but had been unfortunate and was in straitened circumstances. She married a wealthy city merchant, who died soon after the marriage. Mrs. Croft married accompanied Colonel Napoleon in one of his American tours.

A Life Sentence.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Imprisonment for life is the verdict of the jury in the case of Matthias Busch, on trial in the criminal court for the murder of his wife. The trial was a notable one by reason of the volume of expert testimony offered by the defense in support of the plea of insanity. Numerous medical men testified that in their opinion Busch was insane at the time when, under pretense of offering his wife a cigar, he drew a sharp knife across her throat. The prosecution, however, vigorously contested this line of defense, and put in medical testimony proving the man to have been sane and responsible for the fearful deed.

Lack of Rain Causes a Breaker to Fall.

San Francisco, April 30.—A S. W. Sea a very heavy rain breaker, suspended Saturday. He had sold short and the rise in wheat knocked him out. Since April 2 there has been no rain, while the best has been expected. The result is that the prospects of a good wheat crop are poor, and the price of wheat and barley during the past week has advanced three dollars per ton. Many brokers have been caught short, and unless the rain comes, their work there are going to be many failures.

Death of Seth Thomas.

New York, April 30.—Seth Thomas, the well-known manufacturer of clocks, died Saturday at his home at Thomaston, Conn. He had been suffering more than a month from a complication of diseases, and was expected to die at any time. He was 71 years of age, and leaves a son and two daughters. Mr. Thomas was the second son of Seth Thomas, who a great many years ago began the manufacture of mechanical movements clocks in Connecticut.

Yellow Fever in Florida.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—From reports received by Surgeon-General Hamilton the existence of yellow fever at various points in Florida is unmistakably shown. Physicians at the places where sickness has made its appearance refuse to acknowledge its prevalence and assign other causes of death.

Father and Child Killed by an Engine.

VERMILION, Ky., April 30.—A carriage containing Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gault and three small children was struck Sunday morning by an engine at the west end crossing, instantly killing the father and one child, and terribly injuring the other occupants. It is feared that all may die.

Badly Hurt by a Horse.

WINTHROP, Kan., April 30.—William J. Johnston, a stock-raiser living near here, was Saturday attacked by a vicious horse which he was leading and fatally mangled. One of his ears and a portion of his scalp were bitten off, and his shoulder was crushed in the jaws of the fierce animal.

For Congress.

CHICAGO, April 30.—The Republican Congressional convention of the Fourth Illinois district, Saturday re-nominated George D. Adams.

SWOLLEN STREAMS.

Heavy Rains in the Northwest Threaten Fresh Floods.

THREE LIVES LOST IN WISCONSIN.

Snow in Minnesota and Dakota Delays Seeding—Extensive Inundations in Texas—People Forced to Take Refuge in Trees.

NOTES FRESHETS.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., April 30.—Duncan creek, which flows through the center of this city, has overflowed the banks. The lower portion of Main street, together with the Chippewa Lumber and Boom Company's lumber-yard, is submerged, and several families have been compelled to move out. It is still raining hard and the river is rapidly rising. Miss Kate Wilson, daughter of Judge C. J. Wilson, was drowned Saturday in Duncan creek, about four miles above this city. Two log-drivers on the Chippewa creek, a tributary of the Chippewa, were drowned Saturday. The Yellow river dam, about five miles from this city, has gone out. Eau Claire, Wis., April 30.—The Chippewa river was approaching the edge of the four mark last night. Many families are abandoning their homes on the flats. Farmers below the city are moving their goods and stock to high ground. The paper mill was shut down Saturday. Yesterday ton of lumber were carried away from West side mill. One of the city bridges is in danger. The main Chippewa river is rising. The Flood is feared to be a tributary, is higher than for eight years ago, and still rising. Apprehensions increase.

WAUSAU, Wis., April 30.—The water in the Wisconsin river is still rising at this place, and has now reached the back-water mark. Great fears are entertained that the guard-lock above the mills will be carried out. Should this occur hundreds of thousands of dollars of damage would be done. A large force of men are working night and day to prevent this. Railroad bridges in the city are held down with cars loaded with stone. A heavy rain is falling. St. Paul, Minn., April 30.—There is again considerable damage from floods. The Chippewa and Wisconsin rivers have been swollen by the late heavy rains and are threatening the towns. The Eau Claire river is rising under the same conditions at Chippewa Falls. The water is encroaching on the low land. At Merrill, Wis., the river is within four inches of high-water mark. The flood-gates of dams above have been opened, and it is feared that the city will be suffered by Merrill. Mill-owners. The rain has generally changed to snow throughout the Northwest, and the cold weather may check the rise in the rivers. At Eau Claire, Minn., the water is rising. T. and Canton, D. T., say that a dam now is falling. This is the latest news of any spring for five years in South Dakota. While it may delay seeding somewhat it will not damage crops already in the ground.

St. Louis, April 30.—Reports from Texas show that the Washita river in the Chickasaw Nation has flooded the lowlands and washed away bridges. A heavy rain, of a mile of railroad track, including culverts and bridges. The Red river is higher than ever known before. The water is rising rapidly under the influence of a steady pour of thirty-six hours. In Choctaw bayou, a few miles from Sherman, people are compelled to take to the trees Friday, and were not rescued until Saturday morning. The Texas & Pacific railroad has suffered great damage from washouts. Near Denton three bridges were washed away. Another bridge is reported down near Dallas. Forty families near Atoka have been compelled to abandon their homes, and reports from Muskogee indicate much suffering throughout the territory, especially along Boggy and Canby creeks.

T., April 30.—General Guerra, commander of the first military zone of Sonora, telegraphs the Governor under date of April 25 that Lieutenant Juan Quintana, with Federal forces, had a sharp battle with Yagui Indians on the Tejibampo mountains, killing twenty-one and wounding one, who was taken prisoner. The Yagui Indians were dangerously wounded. In another dispatch, dated April 27, the General says: "Yesterday Captain Angel Lopez, of the Mexican home guards, reported a party of Yagui Indians going toward Agua Caliente and had a fight with them, killing seven and capturing fourteen prisoners, mostly women and children, and a lot of guns and ammunition."

DARING ROBBERS.

Passengers on a Mexican Train Forced to Part with Their Valuables. CITY OF MEXICO, April 30.—A passenger train on the Mexican railway was stopped and robbed near Toluca Friday night by fourteen highwaymen. The passengers and trainmen were systematically robbed. The company lost over $3,000 from the train. The robbers were taken to the same band that entered Ameca recently and that plundered the Chale ranch in the State of Puebla. A large force of cavalry, ordered out by the Government, has struck the trail of the robbers.

Carnot, in reply, said it was his firm intention to direct the republic in the paths of wisdom and progress.

I have had several cases for ten years so bad that there were great sores in my nose, and one place was eaten through. I got Ely's Cream Balm. Two bottles did the work. My nose and head are well. I feel like a new man.—O. S. McMillen, Shelby, Jackson Co., Mo. For all forms of nasal catarrh where there is dryness of the air passage with what is commonly called "stiffening up" especially when going to bed, Ely's Cream Balm gives immediate relief. It is the only remedy of the kind. —A. G. Case, M. D., Milwood, Kas.
